27th Annual Conference

“Advancing Academic Excellence Through Multicultural Initiatives”

Multicultural education values cultural pluralism, promotes international studies and fosters programming with a global perspective. All students, both traditional and non-traditional, need to understand the multicultural dimension of the nation’s historical and contemporary experience. This can be accomplished by scholars who provide academically sound programs on campus, off campus, and in other countries rooted to the preservation and extension of cultural alternatives. Summer session administrators can affirm cultural pluralism through their professional leadership and through providing for the development of creative and culturally diverse summer programs in a rapidly changing global society.

EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Sunday, October 21, 1990—4:45 p.m.

Dinner Theatre on the Shores of Lake Minnetonka

Dinner and a play at the Old Log Theatre, on the shores of legendary Lake Minnetonka, west of Minneapolis. The Old Log Theatre is the longest continuously running repertory theatre in the nation, and you can be part of its Golden 50th Season.

The evening will begin with a bus trip from the Radisson Plaza Hotel Minneapolis west to Excelsior, Minnesota, an historic summer resort community. You'll get a glimpse of some of the large, gracious homes on Lake Minnetonka before arriving at the Old Log Theatre. You can head for the cash bar or take a stroll through the spacious grounds prior to sitting down in the dining room for one of the Old Log's famous prime rib or walleyed pike dinners. Following dinner, you'll move to the theatre for a performance of Who's Wife Is This Anyway?, an English farce comedy. A thoroughly enjoyable evening for locals and visitors alike.

Cost: $31.00 per person.

Tuesday, October 23, 1990—1:30–5:30 p.m.

Metro Tour or Stillwater/St. Croix Valley Tour

As a Twin Cities NAASS conference participant, you can select one of two tour options: A metropolitan tour featuring highlights of Minneapolis and St. Paul (below), or you can head out of town for a trip through the St. Croix River Valley and its centerpiece, the historic city of Stillwater (see page 3).

Urban Option—A Tour of Two Cities

See the origins of Minneapolis: St. Anthony Falls on the powerful Mississippi River, Boom Island, and the Old Milling District (its warehouses and mills now largely converted into condominiums, restaurants, and shops). Go past Loring Park and the Guthrie Theatre/Walker Art Center complex to the Minneapolis Sculpture Garden, where you'll have the opportunity to get off the bus and stroll through one of the Twin Cities' newest and most stunning attractions. Wind through one of the country's largest urban park systems, its lake district and oldest, most exclusive neighborhoods (including a drive past the Mary Tyler Moore home) to hauntingly beautiful Minnehaha Falls (made famous in Longfellow's poem "Hiawatha"), where you'll again have an opportunity to use your walking shoes. Drive past historic Fort Snelling, where Minnesota "began" in 1819 at the convergence of the Mississippi and St. Peter's (now Minnesota) Rivers and along the Mississippi to downtown St. Paul. Walk through the State Capitol building, deemed by many architectural historians as the most sumptuously appointed statehouse in the nation, and through the magnificent St. Paul Cathedral overlooking the city. Then travel down the best preserved Victorian street in the United States, Summit Avenue, home of lumber, railroad, and banking barons who built the city. Finally, cross the river again and pass the Minneapolis campus of the University of Minnesota as you head back to the Radisson Plaza Hotel Minneapolis.

Cost: $12.00 per person.

Rural Option—A Trip to Stillwater and the St. Croix River Valley

A visit to Stillwater and the beautiful St. Croix River Valley, which divides the states of Minnesota and Wisconsin east of the Twin Cities. Head for the Valley by way of White Bear Lake, driving along the exclusive north shore and continuing through the woods and rolling pastures to Aamodt's Apple Farm and Country Store, where you'll be treated to fresh apple pie a la mode. Next stop: the Boom Site on the St. Croix River, where logs floating from nineteenth century logging camps were sorted prior to milling. In picturesque Stillwater, you'll have an opportunity to shop for antiques in one of Minnesota's loveliest and most historic communities. Return to the Radisson Plaza Hotel Minneapolis by way of St. Paul, passing the giant 3M Corporation complex, downtown, the State Capitol building, and St. Paul Cathedral. This option is limited to 46 people—first come, first served.

Cost: $12.00 per person.
